Four-Year Term Proposal Passes Michigan Senate

LANSING (AP)—A proposed constitutional amendment providing four-year terms for state and county officials and legislators was half way through the Michigan Legislature today.

The Senate approved the measure with only two negative votes and sent it to the House. Such a proposal does not need the governor's approval.

On November Ballot

If the House approves the proposal it will automatically be placed on the November general election ballot.

No Mud-Slinging, Nixon Counsels

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon has advised fellow Republicans to avoid "indiscriminate" attacks on the opposition on the issue of communism, while accusing the Democrats of losing at the conference table victories won in war.

Whether by coincidence or in line with President Eisenhower's counsel to shun extreme partisanship, a number of GOP senators seemed to take a more moderate tone as the Lincoln Day speech-making reached its peak volume on this anniversary of the Civil War President's birth.

There were still plenty of accusations that past Democratic administrations had coddled Communists, or been outsmarted by them.

Nixon himself, in a speech Thursday night at New Haven, paid tribute to the way in which he said Secretary of State Dulles "has stood up to the Communists at the conference table in Berlin," and he added:

"The day is past when our diplomats lose at the conference table the victories which our fighting men win on the battlefields."

But counseling Republicans against indiscriminate attacks, Nixon said: "We must remember that millions of Democrats were just as fed up with Trumanism as we were in 1952."

Honor System Telephones Don't Work In Japan

By JIM BECKER

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's public telephones are going off the honor system.

Patrons will have to deposit a coin before they chat. Heretofore, they were on their honor to slip a 10-yen coin or bill (about 3 cents) into a box beside public telephones after the call.

That system didn't work. But, complained the customers, neither did the telephones—most of the time.

Calls On the Cuff

The boxes were yielding a rash of nasty notes about the service, an occasional IOU, used facial tissues by the pound, a general assortment of other debris—and very little money.

The telephone company estimated that 85 per cent of the calls were on the cuff. However, it hastened to add, most of the "dead beat" calls were wrong numbers. Wrong numbers flourish in the Japanese telephone system. It is the best in Asia, but—

One exasperated citizen in a long letter complained that in a sweaty and fruitless half hour he had been connected with 13 wrong numbers and got 25 busy signals. He never did get his number.

New Boxes Tricky

The frustrated patron slipped the note in the coin box—without any accompanying coins—and told the company flatly in a postscript he didn't intend to pay.

The coin boxes produce a steady yield of such irate notes. The IOUs are couched in gentler tones, but just as useless at the bank.

The new coin boxes, to guard against a customer losing a coin every time the company turns up a wrong number, gives the patron 10 seconds to discover if he has the right party.

The patron slips in a coin and dials his number. If he gets the right number, he pushes a button and his coin drops into the box. If he does not push the button, the telephone goes dead after 10 seconds and the coin is returned.

Molotov May Drop Demand For Big 5 Including Red China

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

BERLIN (AP)—The Western powers pressed the Soviet Union today to abandon its demand for a Big Five conference with Red China and to join instead in working out a new approach to Korean and Indochinese settlements.

The three Western foreign ministers met for an hour and 40 minutes with Russia's V. M. Molotov in an unusual morning secret session in advance of a regular Big Four meeting this afternoon on Austrian independence.

Dulles May Concede

There was strong indication that if Molotov would drop his insistence on a Big Five parley including Red China, U. S. Secretary of State Dulles would be willing to reverse the previous American position that Russia should attend the proposed Korean political conference only as a partner of Red China and North Korea rather than as a non-belligerent.

The Western ministers made plain to Molotov in Thursday's secret session, it was understood, that they have no intention whatever of accepting his five-power conference demand, but that they are deeply interested in having the Berlin meeting break the Communist-U. N. Command deadlock over arrangements for a Korean peace settlement.

British and French diplomats found some cause for hope in Thursday's meeting because Molotov's reaction was not one of firm opposition or rigid insistence on all points of his own views.

The British and French apparently got the idea that he might be willing to make a new approach to a Korean conference. No one could be sure, however, that the Peiping government would go along with Molotov and the government in Moscow.

The question of Russia's role in a Korean conference has been a sore one for a long time. The Communists insist Russia be included as a neutral.

He suggested that the $1,150,000 surplus the state hopes to build up by June 30 by appropriated for planning such projects.

Breaking down the total, the state-supported colleges asked for $144,881,851 in new buildings in the five years. The mental health department asked for $65,483,911, almost exactly the amount of a bond issue floated in 1950 for mental hospital construction.

The national guard, state police and related agencies asked for buildings totaling $22,913,000. The corrections department asked for $19,599,857, and the conservation and agriculture departments and related agencies asked for $12,906,676.

The balance of the total was asked in smaller amounts by other agencies.

India Protests Aid To Pakistan

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic officials said today the United States has decided to give substantial military aid to Pakistan regardless of India's angry protests.

An American military survey mission, they said, will go to Pakistan to look over its armed forces and determine the amount and type of military equipment needed.

An announcement of the decision probably will be delayed until after Pakistan and Turkey sign a broad defense, economic and cultural agreement, these sources said. The agreement is expected to be announced formally within a matter of days.

Any American move to arm Pakistan would be certain to provoke bitter objections from India's Prime Minister Nehru. He has been mobilizing Indian public opinion against any such American-Pakistan military tieup on the ground it would upset peace in Asia.

Bodenheim Story Withheld By DA

NEW YORK (AP)—The district attorney's office is withholding details of Harold Weinberg's confession that he killed Max Bodenheim and his third wife, stressing the ban has to do with a defendant's right to a "fair trial."

Frank S. Hogan, Manhattan DA, is on vacation. His office says it has a signed statement by Weinberg that he shot poet - author Bodenheim, 58, to death and killed Mrs. Bodenheim, 35, the former Ruth Fagan. The woman's body bore numerous stab wounds.

Authorities have refused to give any details of the signed statement including any motive.

The DA's office Thursday denied its silence was influenced by a recent proposal by the State Bar Assn. to restrict newspaper coverage of crime stories mainly to the courtroom.

The association tabled its resolution, which would ask for legislation on the matter, until another meeting this summer.

Home Loan Purchase Payments Eased By New Congress Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation was drawn today to reduce the down payments and stretch out the repayment periods of Federal Housing Administration home loans.

Identical bills by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) and Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), chairmen of the Senate and House Banking committees, were described by the authors as the administration measures designed to carry out President Eisenhower's housing recommendations of Jan. 25.

They would cut down payments by varying amounts—for example, by $350 on a $10,000 house—and would reduce monthly payments by extending to 30 years, instead of the present 20 or 25, the time in which a loan must be paid off.

Also, down payments as low on used houses as on new ones would be authorized. There is now a differential as a minimum in the Capehart-Wolcott bill, on some classes of single-family houses:

$10,000 house—now $1,250, would be $900; $15,000 house—now $3,000, would be $2,150; $20,000 house—now $4,000, would be $3,400.

Down payments could be set as low as 5 per cent on the first $8,000 and 25 per cent from $8,000 to $25,000.

This is for actual procurement of missiles. It does not include other multimillion-dollar outlays for designing, developing and testing experimental gadgets—the research part of the program.

The figures, made available today in response to a reporter's questions, are a measure of the effort being devoted to producing robot weapons. It is indicative, too, of the emergence of controllable missiles from the drawing boards and laboratories to production lines.

The Air Force has had the largest part of the funds authorized for missile contracts, about $1,268,000,000. It is giving major attention to medium and long range, surface-to-surface missiles. The Matador missile, with a range understood to be about 500 miles, has been in production for more than a year. A second missile, the Snark, with a range substantially greater, is approaching production stage.

Lansing Solons Criticize Acts Of Ex-Governor

DETROIT (AP)—Murray D. Van Wagoner, former Michigan governor, resigned last night as a member of the Mackinac Bridge Authority while drawing the fire of some legislators.

Van Wagoner tendered his resignation only a few hours after he became Michigan's first ex-governor to register as a paid lobbyist.

Gov. Williams promptly accepted the resignation "with a heavy heart."

"I haven't done anything wrong, illegal or improper," Van Wagoner said, "however, I am not going to let any action of mine adversely influence the Mackinac Bridge or embarrass the Authority."

Helps Bond House

Only Thursday morning, Van Wagoner and a business associate, Charles S. Porritt, former state Democratic chairman, registered in the Secretary of State's office as lobbyists for Stifel-Nicolaus and Co., of Chicago.

The Chicago firm belongs to a syndicate which won a bid to handle the $99,400,000 in bonds to finance construction of the bridge which will span the four-mile Straits.

Van Wagoner included a formal statement with the resignation which said:

"A few days ago I was informed that a bill had been introduced in the Legislature to permit the Port of Detroit Authority to buy the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel."

He said he was asked by the Chicago firm to see what he could do about getting the bill passed. The company is handling the sale.

Denies Taking Fee

Van Wagoner said that he "received no money or fee of any kind" from Stifel-Nicolaus.

Van Wagoner said he understood "members of other state boards x x x are registered (as lobbyists)" and there is no connection between the Mackinac Bridge and the Tunnel project.

Van Wagoner said that he had not been asked to quit the Authority post. Both Williams and Brown denied demanding his resignation.

"I am going to accept this resignation, but with heavy heart," Williams declared. "It's just too bad that this incident should involve the one man who did more than anyone else to get the bridge project started in the 1930s, and who has worked for it ever since."

But Van Wagoner drew irate statements from the state capital when legislators found out he had registered as a lobbyist.

Before the resignation was made known, House Speaker Wade Van Valkenberg said he would seek an investigation of any connection by a member of the Authority with bonding houses handling the sale of bridge bonds.

The Army's share is close to a billion dollars. Present major procurement by the Army is going to Nike antiaircraft guided missiles, the surface-to-surface Corporal and another, presumably semiautomatic heavy field artillery rocket designated as the Honest John. The Nike has been in mass production for more than a year.

The Navy has a share of 742 million dollars in the missile procurement program. It has in production several missiles including the Regulus, a surface-to-surface type to be used in firing from ships or from submarines. Also included are two antiaircraft missiles for defense of ships against enemy planes—the Terrier and Sparrow.

Ferguson Says GOP Is Proud Of Its Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan's political gears continued to whirl Thursday night with Sen. Homer Ferguson and David W. Kendall, state Republican national committeeman at the controls.

"Republicans can be mighty proud of our record as a minority," Ferguson declared. "It earned us the smashing victory in 1952."

He said that from 1932 to 1952 the GOP fought Democrat attempts to centralize the government; fought to eliminate wasteful spending, Communism in government and American life, to expose corruption in "almost every department of the Democratic administration."

Dignity Restored

The Michigan Senator addressing a Lincoln Day Detroit audience, dwelt on accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration.

He said Korean hostilities were brought to a close and that a new military program was adopted, providing a "better modern defense for less money."

"We have restored firmness, dignity, and high purpose to American foreign policy," he declared, "and we intend to work for real peace on that level."

"We have taken the initiative in foreign policy," he added. "So long as Republicans are in control, this nation is done with appeasement. No longer will America dance to the Volga Boat Song or any other Russian tune."

Ferguson did not refer to the blast aimed his way Wednesday night by Gov. Williams who accused the senator of being a fence straddler on the unemployment benefits question.

Quip Not Humorous

Williams also accused Ferguson of serving "big business."

But Kendall took up the cudgel. In a speech to Ionia Republicans, the national committeeman took issue with Williams' quip that "the voice is the voice of Eisenhower but the hand is the hand of General Motors."

"The governor's glib misuse of the Biblical paraphrase is neither apt nor humorous," Kendall said, "and hardly will be appreciated by Americans x x x"

"Nor does it come well from one who claims to be a member of the Democrat Party whose national spokesmen are complaining bitterly about Republican attacks and beseeching President Eisenhower to call off the verbal barrage against those same Democrats who for 20 years have been doing precisely the same thing to ex-President Hoover."

Five More Michigan Men Listed As Dead In Korean Fighting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Names of five more Michigan men were included in a list of 95 additional soldiers announced by the Army Thursday as presumed dead in Korea. They had previously been reported missing.

The Army said that most of the deaths in the new list took place while the men were prisoners of war.

The missing soldiers were:

First Lt. Baldwin Ronald Carr, son of Kenneth L. Carr, 311 Moores River Drive, Lansing.

Private First Class Robert Lee Gillette, son of Mrs. Dorothy Crowie, 101 Front St., RFD 2, Allegan.

Pfc. Howard George Gray, son of Mrs. Dorothy M. Gray, 1141 East Nevada St., Detroit.

Finance Plan For Delta County, Roads, Schools, Will Go To Supervisors

A proposed financing plan which would, if adopted, aid Delta County, the County Road Commission and school districts in meeting operating costs, is expected to be presented to the Delta County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday, Feb. 23, in special meeting.

The proposal will be based upon tentative agreements reached last night at a meeting of county and school representatives at the Lincoln House in Gladstone.

Guy Knutson, chairman of the Board of Supervisors' finance committee, said the special meeting of the board will be called for Feb. 23 on petition filed with the county clerk and signed by a quorum of the Board members.

Basis For Agreement

At last night's informal dinner meeting and discussion of finance problems of the county and the school districts, it was revealed that all of the governmental units are in need of additional funds.

Following a review of the county and school finance picture there was discussion of the problem and methods of solution. Basis for agreement was reached on a proposal which is to be presented to the Board of Supervisors for consideration.

The meeting last night marked a determined forward step in efforts toward agreement on what may be a solution to the perennial question of financing county operations, county roads, and the schools.

Join In Discussion

In the past the question, which came up each spring in County Tax Allocation Commission sessions, was never satisfactorily solved and brought disagreement and dissension.

Representing Delta County at last night's meeting at Gladstone were Supervisors Guy W. Knutson and Charles Priestner of Escanaba; Howard Gierke of Fairport; Chester Peak of Ford River; Allan Mercier of Nahma; H. J. Henrikson of Gladstone and Harold Gustafson, County Board chairman, of Ensign.

School representatives were School Board members C. Gust Peterson and Charles Follo of Escanaba; Frank Bender Jr. of Wells township; James T. Jones of Gladstone; and Sheldon Cobb of the Rapid River district; and School Superintendents W. C. Cameron of Gladstone, George E. Wein-gartner of Rock; John A. Rush For Auto Plates Coming

Because more than 4,000 owners of passenger cars and trucks have not yet purchased their vehicle license plates for 1954 there is expected to be a last-minute rush before the Feb. 27 deadline at the Secretary of State's branch office in Escanaba.

Hugh Grow, branch manager of the Secretary of State's office in the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office, said today that the office is open each Saturday to 5 p. m.

All applicants for vehicle licenses were reminded by Grow that they must bring their vehicle title with them when applying to the office to purchase the plates. The plates cannot be issued without the certificate of title.

Grow reported that 2,646 passenger car licenses have been sold since Dec. 1, which indicates that about 3,350 more will be sold before the Feb. 27 deadline. About 268 commercial plates have been sold, leaving about 1,000 yet to sell before last year's plates become invalid.

Business Marks Time To See What Congress Does About Tax Cuts

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Until Congress takes final action on taxes a lot of business plans will likely be kept in mothballs. And some consumers may be waiting, too, to see if Congress is going to make a lot of goods cheaper to buy.

The bolstering which tax changes are supposed to offer manufacturing and retail trade, and thus brake the recession, could be delayed if Congress gets snarled in debates.

Hoping For Best

Many businessmen, while hoping for the best, are taking a wait and see stand on part of their plans for expansion, dividends, possible mergers and foreign investments. Some tax decisions must be made within seven weeks or automatic tax drops will go into effect on many consumer goods, and on corporate income tax rates.

Merchants complain that already some shoppers are holding off their buying, saying they will wait to see what's going to be done about excise taxes on autos, furs, and a long list of goods classed as luxuries.

Dealers will wait, too, in their ordering to see what Congress does about excise tax rates, many of which are now scheduled to drop April 1.

And manufacturers may hold up production targets until they know how high the taxes will remain, and therefore which direction sales may take. Industry has many other decisions while waiting for Congress to act on other tax changes.

Stock Issues Expected
Some companies are waiting to see if Congress will allow faster write-off for tax purposes of the cost of new plant and equipment. At the present slow rate of depreciation allowance, it may be better to lease machinery. At a fast write-off rate it might be advantageous to buy it instead.

The size of plant expansion program could hinge on the same tax advantages. New or bigger programs may be announced if depreciation rules are liberalized.

Another thing business planners must know is what date Congress will finally decide to make the new rules effective. Business can't afford to invest heavily now, if the liberalization doesn't become effective, say, before the start of next year.

New financing plans of some corporations may be held up until Congress acts, too. If Congress does, common stocks should be easier to sell, and some corporations may decide to issue more of them rather than borrow from banks and insurance companies.

Herman Miethe Is Fire Victim

Herman K. Miethe, 47, one-time star athlete of Escanaba High School, died Feb. 8 on a blazing lounge in the den of his home at Santa Monica, Calif., despite heroic rescue efforts of his wife. He was 47 years old.

Listing the death as accidental, detectives and fire investigators said that Miethe apparently fell asleep while smoking.

Miethe came to Escanaba from Danville, Ill., and graduated from High School here in 1925. He was recognized as a star athlete of the football team and in track, and in his Senior year was awarded the Herman Gessner trophy.

Mrs. Millicent Miethe was awakened by the smell of smoke and ran downstairs to the den, groped her way through dense smoke and futilely attempted to lift the body of her husband off the chaise longue, according to the report from Santa Monica.

Unable to move her husband, she summoned the fire department. Miethe's charred body was carried out by the firemen.

Authorities reported that Miethe apparently swallowed a sleeping pill and then lighted a cigarette before retiring on the lounge. Mrs. Miethe told investigators that she had gone to bed about 1 a. m. Her husband was watching television. She was awakened about four hours later by the smell of smoke.

A bottle containing pills was found on a table in the den. Mrs. Miethe told police that she and her husband both occasionally took sleeping pills because of insomnia.

Airmen Try Living Off Frozen North For One-Week Test

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—Thirty-five U. S. and Canadian airmen are back in civilization, 12½ or so pounds lighter after living a week mostly off the frozen land 150 miles north of the Arctic Circle.

The group spent the week in 40-below-zero weather on the southeast coast of Victoria Island to test out earlier training in a Canadian air force arctic survival course. They lived in igloos they built themselves and foraged for most of their food, though emergency rations supplemented their diet.

New Bill In Lansing Threatens To Cut Off Shore Land To Public

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

LANSING (AP)—A second attempt is being made in the legislature to take away from the people of the state thousands of acres of public hunting and fishing lands.

The first attempt was buried in a proposed new codification of marine laws last year. This was soundly defeated when sportsmen took an active interest.

This year the attempt is being made in a separate bill sponsored by Rep. Gerald W. Graves (R-Alpena).

Goes Too Far

The bill ostensibly would clear the title of land that property owners have built out into the Great Lakes.

But it goes farther than this. It would permit adjoining property owners anywhere along the Great Lakes and connecting waters to get a 99-year lease on the marsh and submerged lands in front of their property.

Under the lease, which is tantamount to an outright deed, the owners could then exclude the public from their new property.

As the law now stands, all submerged and marsh lands along the longest shoreline of any state in the nation belongs to the people. It is held in trust by the state under an 1899 law as public hunting and fishing grounds.

Can't Clear Titles

Despite this law, there have been widespread infringements, particularly along the upper Detroit River and Lake St. Clair, wealthy property owners and yacht clubs have built land out into the water and then built expensive homes and other properties on the made land.

Because of the 1899 law, they can't clear their title to the new land. So many of them are behind Graves' bill.

Charles Millar, chief of the Lands Division of the Conservation Department, says he believes the titles of this kind of property should be cleared up. The public has lost the use of the land anyway, so no great harm would be done, he says.

Graves defends his bill only as necessary to clear the titles of improvements on existing made lands.

Pomazal Heads Planning Group

Jesse W. Pomazal, 916 7th Ave. S., last night was elected by the Escanaba Planning Commission as chairman for the ensuing year, succeeding Joseph Ivens, who continues as a member.

Eldridge Baker was elected vice chairman and Austin Stegath secretary at the annual organization meeting held in City Hall.

Three zoning sub-committees were appointed by the new chairman to supplement the standing committees for the year. They are as follows:

Industrial — Joseph Ivens, Austin Stegath and Jesse Pomazal; Commercial and Local Business — Eldridge Baker, Ted Baldwin and Larry Fleming; Residential — Atty. William E. Anderson, Warren Morrison and Dale Vinette.

In other business the Planning Commission adopted a recommendation to the City Council rejecting the application of the Hob Nob, Family Bakery and Cliff's Market to have their locations rezoned from Class B Residential to Local Business. The question was referred by the City Council to the Planning Commission for recommendation.

The commission also continued its discussion of studies made and procedures to use in recommending revisions of the zoning ordinance.

Introduce Bill For Construction Of Sault Bridge

SAULT STE. MARIE—The first step in necessary legislation for a connecting link between the two Sault Ste. Maries was taken Wednesday.

State Sen. William A. Ellsworth of St. Ignace introduced a new bill designed to grant the International Bridge or Tunnel Authority a standing comparable to that of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

The bill was introduced at 10 a. m. on Wednesday by Sen. Ellsworth, before the deadline for filing legislation for consideration at this session of the Legislature.

One of the members of the authority, Robert C. Kline Jr., has returned from Lansing, where he was engaged in consultation on the legislation.

The other members of the authority are Carl Modine and Paul P. Hoholik.

Last week, Hoholik returned from New York after consultations with bridge engineers and financial consultants. Last Friday, the authority mapped a step-by-step agenda for action, and the first move was the preparation and introduction of the legislation.

St. Joseph Hotel Anniversary Nets $7500 For Charity

ST. JOSEPH — Civic leader Leon J. Harris, 60-year-old owner of the Whitcomb Hotel, picked up the check for the $25-a-plate banquet Thursday night, then turned over to his favorite charity the $7,500 paid by the 300 guests.

The dinner marked the 20th anniversary of the day Harris purchased the 82-year-old resort hotel. It also honored him for his numerous contributions to civic affairs in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor.

He is past president and trustee of the new Benton Harbor-St. Joseph Memorial Hospital; organizer of the Twin-City Community Chest and director of the local chapter of the Michigan Children's Aid.

Harris turned over the party's $7,500 proceeds to pay off the mortgage on St. Joseph's synagogue, Temple Beth El. In 1948 Harris helped raise $50,000 to build the temple.

The champagne-caviar-and-chicken feast was climaxed by display of a 25-pound sugar replica of Harris' hotel, built by the Whitcomb's master baker, Hans Kottman.

The model contained 17,000 cubes of sugar and had real glass in its more than 200 windows.

Group Of Governors Will Go To Korea

WASHINGTON — At President Eisenhower's suggestion, a group of state governors will go to Korea about April 1 to appraise the situation there and report to the American people.

The White House made public an Eisenhower letter to Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, chairman of the governors' conference, saying that such a trip "would be highly beneficial."

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, said in response to a question that Thornton and members of his executive committee have agreed to make the trip.

Names of the governors who will accompany Thornton will be announced later.

In his letter to the Colorado governor, Eisenhower said:

"Our country, as you know, has an important stake in the fortunes and destiny of the Republic of Korea. Since the cessation of hostilities there last July, we have continued to improve its military position and have also assumed the task of helping to rebuild its war torn economy. The results of these endeavors will profoundly affect our leadership and prestige in the Far East and indeed throughout the free world.

"I am persuaded that a short visit to Korea by a select group of state executives who are constantly in direct touch with the

Mercury Drops To 5 Below Zero Here

The official temperature in Escanaba this morning was 5 degrees below zero, according to S. E. Decker of the Escanaba weather bureau.

Chill winds from the north began blowing about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and by 8 yesterday's high of 20 went down to 5. Today's bright sun has had its effect, however, and temperatures of about 30 should be reached this afternoon, says Decker. He adds that tomorrow's weather should be much milder than today with the prospect of a few flurries of snow.

This morning's cold snap was general from Minnesota to the north Atlantic seaboard. In the Michigan area it was zero at Marquette, -11 at Sault Ste. Marie, zero at Alpena and 2 above at Lansing.

The cold wave hit hardest in Minnesota with Bemidji bearing the brunt of it with -27. Freezing temperatures were recorded as far south as Oklahoma and Arkansas. Montana and Wyoming are experiencing chinook winds and mild temperatures.

Ike's Concrete Program May Assure His Political Stature

ALL during 1953, his first year in office, President Eisenhower was shot at for "not doing anything," for not having a program. Many people seemed to regard it as highly unreasonable that he should want time to study his problems and learn his job.

Mr. Eisenhower, who was reminded every hour on the hour that he was not a professional politician, stoutly resisted the professionals who urged him to yield to the clamor for action—however off-the-cuff it might be.

Now he has presented a program, and it is extensive.

He has offered a budget that calls for reduced expenditures, and made numerous suggestions designed to provide individual and business tax relief.

He has revised the national defense plans to shift emphasis from ground armies to an air force relying principally on the retaliatory power of A-bombs and H-bombs.

In the field of human relations and welfare, he has shaped positive proposals for revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law, for better health protection and more adequate housing.

And he has put together a farm program aimed at assuring the farmer continued protection while permitting the government to escape from the costly, wasteful practice of buying up surpluses and storing them in warehouses.

No one may any longer say that the President does not have a program. Having it and getting it approved are, of course, two different things. Many parts of Mr. Eisenhower's offerings face stiff opposition, much of it from within his own party.

But whether the nation's lawmakers agree with the President's plans or not, they must acknowledge they are concrete. He has given them something to defend or attack, as they wish. He has prepared something for which he himself can fight. And he has stated plainly that he does intend to fight for it.

It's much too early to tell, but it might

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

From Boonville, Mo., J. C. Grigsby writes: "I wonder if you could discuss sometime the phrase 'Chinaman's chance' meaning, as I take it, practically no chance at all. I am sure your readers would like to know the meaning of this rather peculiar phrase."

Well, sir, it seems to me that you have defined the phrase just about as well as anyone could. A person with only a "Chinaman's chance" is one with practically no chance at all. However, the history of this phrase is indeed a curious one, since it seems probable that originally the word "Chinaman" did not mean a Chinese person or a native of China at all!

Back in the 16th century, traders with the Far East brought back to Europe the first examples of the fine porcelainware which we call "china." The first merchants to deal in this merchandise were called "Chinamen" and their stores were called "Chinamen's." So you see, the phrase "a Chinaman's chance" accurately describes the odds against a merchant of China if he were to find "a bull in his chinashop!"

In the interests of straightforward expression, we had a little fun a few weeks back with the headline writer who used the high falutin word "perturbing" over a front-page news story. "Sultan's Ouster Perturbing To U. S." ran the headline and we mentioned that "perturb" is usually used to describe mental, not physical, disturbance.

From R. R. Newell of San Francisco comes a footnote to the effect that nuclear physicists and astronomers do use "perturbation" in the technical sense of "deviation from the regular course," especially of a celestial body. As he points out, this meaning—though admittedly a very technical one—is definitely "physical, not mental." We stand corrected—and very proud of the superior wisdom of some of our readers!

The Doctor Says ... Adolescents' Problem Is That Of Emotional Control

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

It sometimes seems as though the period of life known as adolescence is more neglected than any other. From the health standpoint, enormous progress has been made in the control of those diseases which formerly took the lives of so many small children, but in many respects the study of the particular problems of adolescence seems to have lagged behind.

Adolescence is defined as that period of life between puberty and maturity and encompasses roughly the years from 12 to 19 or 20, perhaps being somewhat earlier in girls than in boys.

The chances of contracting some fatal disease during adolescence is comparatively slight, and while efforts to improve the health of all ages, including adolescence, must continue, the major problem is emotional and mental development during this period since these play such an important part in later adjustment to the problems of maturity.

A specific problem which should be tackled more vigorously is the problem of automobile accidents among these youthful members of our society.

The emotional characteristics of adolescence have been studied repeatedly.

One report on this subject concluded that the adolescent is struggling for independence against the rules set up by grownups. Those of us who have passed through this phase can remember our own attitudes and certainly can corroborate this statement.

EMOTIONS CHANGE RAPIDLY

During adolescence, the report goes on, speech and behavior, from day to day, are frequently contradictory. The adolescent commonly seems to be an idealist and yet certainly does not act this way. In his relations with others the adolescent may hate violently at one minute and love violently at the next.

As a rule, the adolescent hides his own feelings, at least from grownups, but may be exceedingly talkative and open with those of his own age.

A better understanding of the adolescent and his emotional problems on the part of parents and teachers in particular may greatly aid in the establishment of a stable personality in adult life.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Igor Gouzenko, the Soviet code clerk who exposed the spy ring in Canada, had some potent advice to offer during my second interview with him. The advice should be particularly appropriate now that the U. S. Army in Japan has wooed and won another high-up member of the Soviet espionage apparatus, and now that purges are taking place in two important parts of the Soviet Union.

What Gouzenko told me boiled down briefly to the following:

1. There will be war between the United States and Russia in 10 years if it's left to the Soviet military and unless the United States does something to penetrate the Iron Curtain.

2. Scores of highly placed Russians would be glad to desert Communism and join the West if they were given proper security.

3. The way to convert American Communists away from Communism is by persuasion rather than terrorism before the spotlight of congressional committees.

4. The free world hasn't begun to scratch the surface in wooing the peoples behind the Iron Curtain. This is the real Achilles heel of Communism and the way to prevent war.

Gouzenko also said that he had never heard the name of Harry D. White mentioned while he was coding and decoding cables for the Soviet spy ring in Canada. This is probably one reason why the senate internal security committee has said so little since coming back from interviewing Gouzenko in Canada. The senators went up to Canada after various public statements about rooting out American spies, but have been strangely silent since their return.

Gouzenko did tell me, however, that he had heard from one of his colleagues returning from Moscow that the Kremlin was cooperating with an assistant to Secretary of State Stettinius during the San Francisco conference. Alger Hiss was chief assistant to Stettinius at that time.

SUPPORTS VOICE OF AMERICA

Gouzenko is a sincere, volatile, somewhat nervous gentleman who talks with his hands to supplement his sometimes imperfect English. Incidentally, he objected strenuously at first to wearing a mask during the television interview even though failure to wear a disguise would have increased the hazard of Soviet recognition and revenge, under which he lives constantly.

"The best way to reach the people behind the iron curtain is by radio," Gouzenko insisted, despite Senator McCarthy's constant belittling of the Voice of America. "Of course only a few people hear American radio broadcasts, but they tell other people. The news gets around. All people behind the iron curtain," he said, "are hungry for news. You must not neglect this."

When I told Gouzenko that the State Department was working on a plan of perfecting a small radio set about the size of a cigarette pack which could be dropped behind the iron curtain, he remarked:

"That is admirable. The Russian people will keep that and use it. They would never give it up. They like tangible gadgets from the West."

WOOLING HIGH REDS

When I asked him what he would suggest to encourage more Russians, Poles, Czechs and others with important military or diplomatic information to come over to the free world, he talked at some length. This, incidentally, was the chief point emphasized to Senators Jenner and McCarran when they went to Canada to interview him for the senate internal security committee. So far, their report has not been made public.

"In front of every potential escapee there is a problem," Gouzenko told me. "He has to think, 'will he be accepted as a member of society in the free world?' So you must give him assurances in advance. He must be sure of a job, of police protection, and of material help."

"There is also a matter of human dignity involved," he continued. "Sometimes a high Russian military attaché or general would like to come over to the West, but he continues on with the Soviet simply because he is afraid he will be humiliated here, and perhaps be put to work as a janitor or a doorman in front of a New York night club."

I told Gouzenko of my experience in Germany where I found various high Russian escapees had been shunted back and forth between Frankfurt and Washington by the U. S. military, milked dry of their information, then allowed to sit and rot in concentration camps outside Frankfurt.

Two years ago I persuaded 114 senators to introduce a bill to study this whole problem of Russian escapees but, like most legislation of this kind, it got lost in the shuffle.

Gouzenko emphasized that this was one thing the United States would have to pay much more attention to if we wanted important military men to desert the iron curtain. He didn't say so in direct language, but I gathered that Canada was doing a much more efficient job on this than the United States.

Yanks Beef Up China Anti-Red Guerrillas To Raid Mainland

THE PERSUADED: One profit from mainland raids is in new recruits for the Nationalist cause. Success of guerrillas brought these three out from under the Communist thumb to a coastal island. The Free Chinese hold—youthful one who fled with his dad, an old fisherman, a young fighter.

By FRED SPARKS

NEA Staff Correspondent

TACHEN, Nationalist Guerrilla Island Off Red China—(NEA)—Our government has finally bought a plan to beef up Nationalist guerrillas raiding Red China.

It is hoped these raiders will include a fat share of the toughest and bitterest of the 14,000 Chinese POWs who refused Mother Mao's offer to come home (all is forgiven).

Our plan might scramble some diplomatic tea parties, for London considers the Communist lease on Peiping legal and binding.

The State Department doesn't like to headline our unique involvement, but it's no secret to anyone who walks around Taipei.

On Formosa, with its ration of private Red eyes, guerrillas in training wear buttons stamped with the Stars and Stripes announcing they learn commando capers from U. S. beachhead experts.

On this all-guerrilla island of Tachen, yawning American LCTs spill U. S. ammo crates; sweating coolies carry them to guerrilla positions.

Nor does it take a Pinkerton to extract slugs from Red soldiers scratched during recent guerrilla raids. The bullets are as American as Marilyn Monroe DiMaggio's silhouette.

Why are we going to invest bigger bankrolls in guerrillas needing Dictator Mao? Because: 1. A Red army spread thin watching beaches is less capable of another push past the 38th Parallel — or of collecting fresh Asian properties.

2. Our administration warns that if Korea should renege, we'd mess up Dictator Mao's living room as well as President Rhee's rice paddies.

3. Ike's New Look, reducing massive foot-borne armies for an age when one scientific sizzler can radio-activate North Dakota, also includes building up our own and allied commandos and paratroopers. You don't A-bomb a tenement to flush one gangster.

4. The Pentagon currently believes Free China would be applying for suicide to make a major invasion, and wants it to stick (for the present) to guerrilla rabbit punches.

Is Red China a soft touch for military muggers?

Well, imagine America trying to prevent commandos hitting any inch of our coastline if an enemy held a big base 90 miles from the Stork Club, plus strips of island, one to five miles offshore from Carolina to Boston. And assume half our population anxious to put out the "welcome" mat for the foe.

That's roughly Peiping's position, with guerrillas operating from Formosa and islands like the one I'm on, less than a few cigarette puffs by jet from major Communist industry. Others operate inside China itself, paining Mao like a swallowed plum pit.

There's whopping psychological profit in these raids, for they make locals realize that — even though under communism there's only one name on the ballot — someone's still trying to turn the rascals out . . . in coffins.

The first 63 Chinese POWs who came to Formosa last year when President Rhee opened the gates recently visited Quemoy, largest guerrilla offshore island.

At a position next the mainland they used a jazzed up loud speaker to shout to Red soldiers across the skinny strip of water. It so happened that (spies told them) the Red outfit was the 39th unit of the Fourth Communist Field Army.

Several ex-POWs had served the 39th in Korea and they microphoned powerful comments on the habits and general wickedness of the commanding officer, adding: "Comrades, put down your arms and swim through the gulf to join us . . ."

Such commercials have been getting a high rating.

Some Yanks advising the guerrillas today are on regular Army assignment. Others are exsoldiers, sailors and Marines who have been bored stiff since World War II ended and drooled at the cash the Nationalist Government offered.

They work for an outfit labeled Western Enterprises, which rivals in stupor and romance the Flying Tigers that flew for China against the Nips before Pearl Harbor.

They're not supposed to wield any blackjacks themselves; the guerrillas supply the muscle and they supply experience in transport, communications, intelligence and parachuting.

Guerrilla leadership, home taught, isn't burdened with ancient Chinese proverbs that curb Formosa's aggressiveness, such as conferring with your ancestors before attacking.

When the full story of Western Enterprises is written, it will sound like a Mickey Spillane thriller-killer set in a lotus garden.

So They Say

What may seem a troublesome surplus is a part of our great national asset and part of our security.—Defense Secretary Wilson on farm surpluses.

The President must not be deprived of his historic position as the spokesman for the nation in its relations with other countries.—President Eisenhower.

We lived on caviar and steaks — but even so we'd prefer to live in the United States.—Richard Ward, one of seven college editors who visited Russia.

Freedom of inquiry is a notion totally alien to the Communist ideology. Its leaders have laid down basic principles in all branches of knowledge (which) must be accepted literally . . . as articles of faith.—William T. Gossett, Ford vice president.

Christiane (Miss Universe) says she likes housework. I don't know, I'll believe it when I see it. After all, who does?—Mrs. Marengo on her new daughter-in-law.

Ultimately, it will not be by propaganda, by ideology or by force of arms, but by the sheer force of moral and intellectual freedom that we will most surely liberate mankind.—Thomas E. Dewey.

What my colleagues say in the cloakrooms about President Eisenhower is a lot different than what they are saying publicly about him.—Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind., Ore.).

They've (the Army) given me no indication that I will be prosecuted and I don't expect to be. I did nothing criminal while I was up there.—Cpl. Claude Batchelor.

If they will let me take his punishment, they can call me and I will be glad to do it for them.—Van Buren Dickenson, 73, father of Cpl. Edward Dickenson.

It (administration plan or 1954) is a program that does not deal in the pie-in-the-sky promises to all, nor in bribes to a few, nor in threats to any.—President Eisenhower.

Good Evening ...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

BY THE TON—The plethora of publicity material received by a newspaper, even a small daily such as the Escanaba Daily Press, would in one year total several tons of paper.

Most of this material is tossed into the circular file—the wastebasket. Reason for this is that most of it is worthless as news, deliberately slanted to advertise a product or a firm, and therefore unacceptable to the editor.

The publisher of a weekly newspaper in Texas has at last found a use for the publicity releases. He cuts them into sheets, pads them with cardboard backing and gives them to local merchants for scratch pads.

In this way the Texas newspaperman puts the publicity release to good use—his own. The merchants appreciate the service and the newspaper sells more advertising.

RECOGNITION—Harold Hebert has received the highest honor of the Boy Scouts of America—the Eagle Scout award. This was presented to him recently as a Scout court of honor for Red Buck District held at Gladstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Hebert of Nahma, Harold's parents, were present for the recognition accorded their son, and participated in the ceremony.

What does a Boy Scout have to do to become an Eagle Scout? He must, of course, meet all the requirements of Scouting and attain all of the advancements in the upward climb in rank.

In addition, in Harold's case he is: 1—Junior Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 421, Nahma; 2—active as a Den Chief of the Nahma Cub Scout Pack; 3—a member of the 1953 Camp Red Buck staff.

And if that were not enough, he is a regular on Nahma High School's basketball team.

INFECTIOUS HEPATITIS — Dr. J. K. Altland of the Michigan Department of Health recently addressed a meeting in Escanaba of public health sanitarians of the Upper Peninsula on the subject of infectious hepatitis.

No doubt some people may have wondered what infectious hepatitis is and why public health sanitarians should be interested.

People of the Germfask area in Schoolcraft County have a first-hand knowledge of the infection and the need for its control. For at one time infectious hepatitis "posed a very serious problem" for the people of that community, reported George Rouman, Alger-Schoolcraft sanitarian.

Infectious hepatitis (or infectious jaundice as it is sometimes called) is an inflammation of the liver. The U. S. Public Health Service notes that 33,382 cases were reported in 1953, and the rate in January was above last year.

Hepatitis makes the patient extremely miserable with headache, fever, nausea and loss of appetite. Jaundice appears in most cases as the virus goes to work on the liver. The virus has not yet been isolated by medical science.

But why should the public health sanitarians have an interest in the disease? Because the virus is spread only in areas where there is poor sanitation, and the best protection so far devised is scrupulous cleanliness.

GOOD RIDDANCE—Mrs. Charles Chaplin, young wife of an oldtime Hollywood film favorite, is now a British citizen. Her husband was born in England 64 years ago.

Chaplin went for a trip to Europe with his family and was barred from returning to the United States because of his unsavory reputation. Despite 40 years of success in American films, Chaplin never became a citizen of the United States.

Older movie fans will remember, with a touch of nostalgia, the great artist of pantomime of the silent film days. But they cannot overlook the obvious fact that Chaplin the great is now Chaplin the Communist sympathizer and headline in illicit love affairs.

Good riddance in the Chaplins' decision to find a home elsewhere than America. We can do without them.

THE ANSWER — Persons who believe the water diviner or "dowsers" is reliable in finding underground water courses are wrong, says Kenneth K. Landes, University of Michigan geology professor.

The dowsers in clutching his forked stick is the victim of "unstable equilibrium." The stick points down only when "dowsers" makes a misstep or twitches and his balance is upset.

The believers in the powers of the forked stick will no doubt soon let the learned professor of geology know that he has made a "misstep" in debunking water witching. For they can cite innumerable instances where the dowsers' "balance" was somehow upset directly above an underground water course.

A west coast man temporarily lost his voice after his first plane ride. It doesn't cost much, men, to take the good wife up.

You don't have to wait until any particular season to can a certain brand of sour grapes.

It's run to drift in to work every day—until you realize that you are just drifting.

Methodists Join In Youth Crusade During Month

Under the leadership of Bishop Marshall R. Reed 230,000 Michigan Methodists are participating in a special youth crusade during the month of February.

Bishop Reed says, "The world is now engaged in a terrific conflict between two fundamental philosophies of life. One believes in God and the other does not. One accepts a spiritual interpretation of living and the other rejects it. There is nothing before us right now as important as strengthening the Hebrew-Christian view of life. Movements that do not represent the Christian way of life nor the Christian Church clamor for the attention of our young people. What philosophy they accept is important both to them and the future. Our purpose is to discover with them a sane and intelligent interpretation of what Christ can mean to them and to their friends."

Directed To Youth

"To this high and holy endeavor we would summon our Michigan Methodists. We covet the attention of our young people and their leaders. We solicit the interest and understanding of parents. We ask for the prayers and cooperation of the whole church as we seek to help our youth to discover the will of God and to live by it."

During the first week of February, Methodist young people and their counsellors were engaged in preparing lists of young people in their community who are unchurched and many churches enlisted adult counsellors in a training program.

During the second week, pastors, teachers and counsellors met in five central places in the Upper Peninsula, Feb. 8 at Central Methodist Church in Sault Ste. Marie, Feb. 9 at Grace Methodist, Marquette, Feb. 10 in Norway; Feb. 11 in Wakefield; and today, Feb. 12 at Lake Linden. It is estimated that in all, approximately 600 youth, leaders, and counsellors met together to consider the youth program of the Methodist Church. These groups, or sectional conferences, have been led by Dr. Glenn Frye, assistant to Bishop Reed, and director of the church's spiritual life program. Dr. Charles Wolfe, superintendent of the Upper Peninsula Churches, has organized these training conferences.

Training Meetings

Sunday, Feb. 14, and throughout the week, the young people themselves will be trained in sub-District meetings to make fellowship calls on non-church youth, inviting them to attend their groups and church school classes. A youth consecration service in every church, when all young people and their leaders will dedicate themselves to the work of the church and the Christian way of life is planned for Feb. 21. During the week following, World Friendship banquets and work-shops for the improvement of the program will be held in various parts of the Upper Peninsula.

The final Sunday of the month, Feb. 28, will emphasize Christian faith for youth in district rallies which will point the program into further advance during the coming year.

Little Sports Fans Need Added Care In Winter Cold

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

Many parents believe in acquainting their children early with the fun of winter sports. Not long after they learn to walk, these tots are mastering the arts of balancing on ice skates or sliding on sleds.

Not only do these sports prove healthful exercise but they are excellent for helping little girls develop graceful muscle control.

Mothers can also use this time as an opportunity to instill sound skin-care habits.

Little girls' skins are at least as sensitive to the elements as are their mother's. Yet too seldom do parents think of the youngsters' need for some protective preparation.

One effort to overcome this neglect has been the introduction of a special line of skin-care preparations just for the little misses. Featured is a lip pomade that is red in the stick but colorless when applied.

There is also a special hand lotion that is said to be absorbed into the skin very quickly.

Harvey Freytag underwent minor surgery at Crittenton General Hospital, Detroit, and now is recuperating at his home.

Oscar Sundling has returned from Detroit where he visited his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Sundling. He also saw his new granddaughter for the first time.

Mr. and Mrs. William Besner of Lufkin, Tex., visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Raymond Nedeau. Mr. Besner was called to Manistiquie by the death of his father, Fred Besner.

Mrs. Richard Morrison is confined to her home by illness.

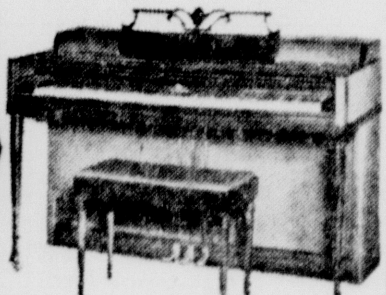

Mrs. Arvid Sundin has returned from a two weeks vacation at Cumard with her daughter, Mrs. Al Asplund, and family.

Story Hour will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday in the Children's Room of Carnegie Public Library. Mrs. Kenneth G. Jensen, children's librarian, will tell two stories, "Captain Joe and the Eskimo" and "A Valentine With Whiskers."

PTA Council Formed Here

Mrs. Belle Farley Murray, a professor at the University of Michigan, met in Manistique Thursday afternoon with past officers and PTA workers to discuss plans for conducting a 3-day PTA workshop here next fall.

The workshop will be held, it is announced, and will be designed to train leaders and potential leaders in PTA work. Community PTA groups sponsor and finance the workshops, for a nominal fee. Meeting with Mrs. Murray, in Supt. Arthur Hall's office, were Supt. Hall, Mrs. John Hanson, Mrs. William Grant of Thompson, Mrs. Roy Briggs, Mrs. Keith Bundy and Mrs. LeRoy Wilson.

A tentative PTA Council for Manistique was organized here Thursday, and the above named PTA officers and PTA presidents were appointed to serve. Their appointments are to be presented to PTA units in the city later for confirmation.

Others named to the council are: Roger Smith, Rev. LeRoy Robart, Lawrence Stewart, Mrs. Ludwig Hough, Mrs. E. J. Doyle and Mrs. V. B. Guidebeck.

Also considered Thursday was a proposal to invite the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers to hold its state convention here in April, 1955.

Mueller and Manistique Heights PTA units will be invited to participate in work of the PTA Council here. A Council is organized in communities to counsel individual units, train officers, and to coordinate the various activities of PTA units.

Students Will Have Eye Tests

Manistique elementary and Junior High School students will have their vision tested next week, School Supt. Arthur Hall reports. Teachers in each of the rooms will administer the visual tests either Monday or Tuesday, he said.

Students found to have defective vision will be notified so the condition can be corrected, the superintendent states.

Alger-Schoolcraft Health Department is cooperating in the eye testing program here. Those with defective vision will be re-examined later in Marquette. Financial assistance will be given through the Michigan Children's Fund, to those who need glasses and are unable to purchase them.

The visual testing program is conducted annually at the school.

Terry Williams III With Polio

Terry Williams, 6-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams of Manistique, is receiving treatment in St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette, for polio, it is reported by hospital authorities.

The child became ill on Feb. 4 and was admitted to the hospital at Marquette on Feb. 7. There was no report on his condition.

Health officials who were notified of the case said Terry's case was unusual because he is younger than most polio cases. Most polio cases occur in the summer months, but the disease also strikes its victims in any season of the year.

I FELT ALL RUN DOWN BEFORE I DISCOVERED O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for the good O-JIB-WA has done me," says Mr. Nelson Sanford, 4736 First St., Columbiaville, Michigan. "I am happy to tell everyone what it has done for me."

"For five months I had been bothered with stomach trouble and I guess it was just getting the best of me. Then I decided to try O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I had heard of so many people that it had helped and when I look back I think that was the happiest day of my life. In just one week I felt like a new man. My appetite improved and I was able to eat anything I wanted without fear of suffering from gas pains and indigestion. I could sleep like a log and I began to feel better all around. All together I have only taken three bottles of O-JIB-WA BITTERS and it has helped me so much that I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for the good it has done me."

The referee has a full-time job in handling the boxers—watching for low blows, rabbit punches, kidney punches, backhands, open-handed blows and the like . . . Six U.P. Fighters Reach Finals

Vanderlinden And St. Louis Lose On TKO's

MILWAUKEE (Special) — Six Upper Peninsula ring champions slammed their way into the Milwaukee Golden Gloves finals here last night, three of them winning via technical knockouts.

Among the six losers in the semifinals were the Upper Peninsula novice and open lightweights, Ron Vanderlinden of Escanaba and Earl St. Louis of Soo, Canada.

Vanderlinden ran into a rugged Indian boy from Marshfield, John Theobald, and suffered a first round TKO. The Escanaba scrapper traded punches with his foe in an action-packed round but went down twice from straight right hands. His own right landed several times but failed to bother Theobald.

Johnson Too Strong
St. Louis faced the top amateur boxer in Wisconsin in Norman Johnson and was stopped in the second round. Johnson had too many weapons for the Canadian scrapper and counted heavily with booming hooks and straight right hands to the head.

St. Louis flashed a terrific overhand right to Johnson's jaw in the first round but the Milwaukee boy countered with a hook and a cross that put St. Louis on the canvas. St. Louis went down again in the first round and once in the second before the fight was stopped. Johnson was making his first appearance in the tournament as all previous foes had defaulted to the highly regarded Milwaukee Negro.

Two Manistique fighters moved into the championship matches which will begin at the Arena Saturday night at 8:15 (EST). Open division featherweight Harvard Lancour opened up with a two-handed attack in the second round and scored a TKO over Jim Martin of Fond du Lac in the third. Lancour, defending champion, belted his opponent through the ropes twice in the second after a fairly close first round.

Nelson Comes Through
Novice bantamweight Harry Nelson scored a three-round decision over Charles Gurney of Marshfield for the other Manistique win. Nelson took the first round, slowed down a bit in the second, and then finished strong in the third to catch the nod. He had Gurney bleeding from the nose at the end of the fight.

Werner Ammann, Manistique flyweight, and Buddy Holmberg, Manistique featherweight, both lost decisions in the novice division. Ammann was down once in the first round but went on to make a close fight of it with Warner Ware, colored Milwaukee boy. Tom Cobishop of Marshfield piled up a big edge in the first round and Holmberg couldn't catch up.

Marquette's Tommy Betts rang up a clear cut decision over Lewis Diver of Marshfield in the 118 open division. Betts used a straight left hand and stinging right to earn all three rounds and had a big margin in the third.

Mastaw Scores TKO
Open division light heavyweight Dick Nolan of Canadian Soo won on a TKO over Tom Wagner of Fond du Lac in the second round. The rough, tough Soo puncher opened a bad cut over Wagner's eye and the referee stopped the bout.

Brian Mastaw, American Soo novice welterweight, uncorked dynamite left hands to score a technical knockout over Mike Tappin of Marshfield in the second round. Mastaw led the fight throughout.

Vern Coutant of the Soo waged a hectic battle with Al Dembrowski of Fond du Lac but lost a decision. Coutant won the third round but couldn't overcome a knockdown in the second.

Heavyweight Jack Sutter of Gladstone lost on a TKO in the third round in his fight with Mark Schommer of Marshfield. Sutter scored well with a long left but was unable to land with his right. He was not in serious trouble when the referee stopped the fight.

Virgil Bacon of Menominee moved into the finals when his opponent, Walter Weiman of Fond du Lac, defaulted. Results of U. P. fighters: 112 Novice Warner Ware, Milwaukee decision over Werner Ammann, Manistique.

118 Novice Harry Nelson, Manistique decision over Charles Gurney, Marshfield.

126 Novice Tom Cobishop, Milwaukee decision over Buddy Holmberg, Manistique.

135 Novice John Theobald, Marshfield TKO'd Ron Vanderlinden, Escanaba (1st).

147 Novice Brian Mastaw, Soo TKO'd Mike Tappin, Marshfield (2nd).

160 Novice Virgil Bacon, Menominee won on default from Walt Weiman, Fond du Lac.

175 Novice Al Dembrowski, Fond du Lac decision over Vern Coutant, Soo.

Trojans Travel To Stephenson

The St. Joe Trojans face a rugged two-game basketball weekend with injury and illness cutting heavily into their ranks.

Coach Tom St. Germain will be unable to call on his high-scoring center John Berrigan tonight at Stephenson. Berrigan suffered a sprained ankle last week and is still bothered by the injury.

Regular forward Dick Cass missed school yesterday and has been ill most of the week. If he is unable to play tonight, Jim Greenwood will join the St. Joe starting lineup.

Bryson At Center
David Hirn will be at one forward post with Dick Bryson in the pivot spot in place of Berrigan. Jerry McDonough and Jim Zimmerman will open at the guard spots.

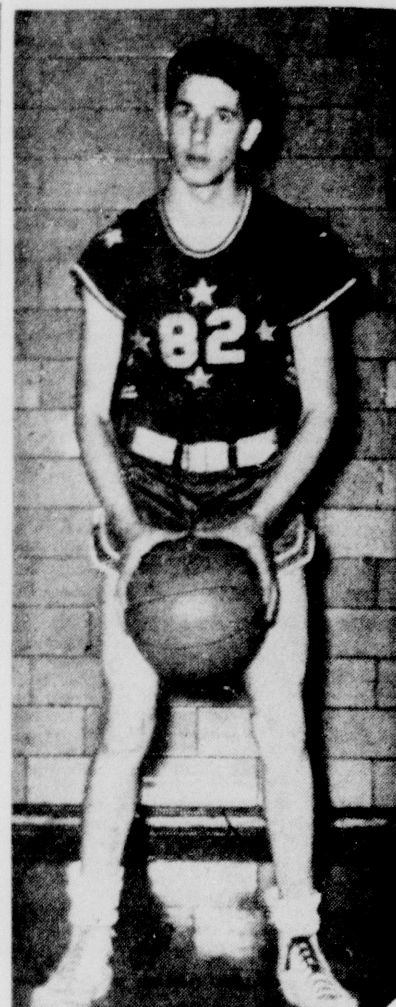

The game at Stephenson will begin at 9:15 (Escanaba time) and a preliminary will be played between the Bee teams starting at 8.

The Trojans will be shooting for their second win over Coach Walt Schousen's Eagles tonight. They trimmed the Stephenson team 67-30 in their first meeting at the St. Joe gym on Dec. 5.

Lourdes Here Saturday
St. Joe will return to its home court Saturday night to entertain a highly-regarded Marinette Lourdes quintet. Lourdes holds down second place in the Fox River Valley Catholic Conference and has split in two games with powerful Green Bay Central Catholic.

Pacing the Lourdes scoring attack is a deadly shooter, Gary Vanderlin, who perates at a guard position. Jim Payette, forward, is another dangerous scorer for the Shamrocks. Other starters are Tom Anglehart, forward; George Peterson, center, and Don Deschaine, guard.

The game with Lourdes was scheduled in mid-season to make up for games missed when the Upper Peninsula Catholic School tournament was cancelled this season.

BERRIGAN OUT—John Berrigan, star sophomore center on the St. Joe Trojan basketball team, will miss the game at Stephenson tonight as the result of an ankle injury suffered last week in practice. Berrigan will not be in uniform tonight. He missed the Munising game last weekend. (Daily Press Photo)

Rags-To-Riches For Cage Quint

By FRANK PITMAN
BOULDER, Colo. (AP)— If you doubt that it's darkest before dawn, take a look at Colorado University's basketball team.

The rags-to-riches Buffaloes lost their first seven non-conference games this season. Now they're sailing in front of the Big Seven Conference after winning six of seven league contests for a half-game lead over Kansas, NCAA runnerup last season. Overall the Buffs have a 7-win, 8-loss record.

Coach H. C. Bebe Lee credits Colorado's comeback mostly to the "ability of the boys to hang in there—they don't give up. They work hard in practice, take coaching well and show tremendous fighting spirit on the floor."

First place in the Big Seven is a new experience for Colorado, whose previous best was a tie for fourth place since it joined the conference seven years ago.

It's a young club of seven sophomores and five juniors. Burdette Halderson, 6-7 junior center from Austin, Minn., is the league-leading scorer with 63 of 115 field goal shots for a 54.77 per cent mark. Although Halderson's height makes him effective close-in he is also the team's best outside shot.

Escanaba Eskymo coach Burt Gustafson will start a shuffled lineup against the tough Menominee Maroons here Saturday night, hoping to pull his cagers out of a minor slump.

In action at the opening tipoff will be Jim Mongrain and Jim Leek at forwards, Jim Bolm at center, John Dulek and Tom Gregoire at guards.

Three of the starters are sophomores, Beck, Mongrain and Dulek while Gregoire and Bolm are seniors.

Gustafson was pleased with the showing of that combination in the second half of the Gladstone game. The Eskymos closed a wide gap against Gladstone to threaten in the late stages of the game.

Boston Tries To Hold Gavilan To Contract

BOSTON — Promoter Sam Silverman said today that welterweight boxing champion Kid Gavilan has been ordered by the International Boxing Guild to fulfill a non-title 10-rounder scheduled here against Livio Minelli March 8.

Silverman said Gavilan's manager, Angel Lopez, had protested Gavilan would be unable to fight in Boston Garden because the March date was too close to the scheduled middleweight title bout between champion Bobo Olson and Gavilan in Chicago April 2.

"But we had a contract signed with Lopez before he got the fight with Olson," Silverman said, "and the International Boxing Guild upheld our claims." The promoter said Lopez was ordered by the guild to post a $7,500 forfeit in case Gavilan fails to go through with the Boston bout.

Phils Deny Report Of Trade With Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—The Philadelphia Phils have denied a report they are weighing a Chicago Cubs offer to trade infielders Roy Smalley, Bill Serena and Eddie Miksis for Phil shortstop Granny Hamner.

The Chicago Tribune Thursday said the Cubs have made such an offer to Philadelphia. "I'm sure the Cubs would like to make such a trade," a club spokesman said in Philadelphia, "but it's just another one of those rumors and there's nothing to it."

Wid Matthews, Cubs' personnel director, would not confirm the report. "I won't be stamped into any deal just for the sake of a deal," he said.

Giambra Is 3-1 Ring Favorite

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Giambra isn't taking Italo Scortichini lightly even if he is a 3-1 favorite to win the telecast Madison Square Garden 10-rounder tonight.

The handsome, 22 - year - old eighth ranked middleweight contender remembers too well his upset a month ago when Bobby Dykes outpointed Giambra and snapped Joey's 11-fight, 16-month winning streak. The loss cost him a lucrative shot with Joe Giardello, the current No. 2 contender.

"Scortichini held Carmen Basilio to a draw last month and that's a good enough recommendation for him," said Joey.

The 24-year-old Italian made his best showing of a year's campaigning in the U.S. when he fought Basilio, No. 1 welterweight contender, to a draw Jan. 16.

Italo's record in the United States is 4-4-1. He has lost to Chico Vejar, Joe Juliano, welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and middleweight contender Gil Turner. His over-all record is 23-11-4.

Joey stands 5-11 to Italo's 5-7. Giambra has stopped 21 of his 40 rivals. His record is 36-3-1.

The bout will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NFC) coast to coast at 9 p.m., CST.

Rookie Wins Batting Honors On .432 Mark

The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues announced today that Snyder's .432 average won for him the Hillerich & Bradsby silver bat which goes annually to the minor league hitting champion, as well as the Spalding trophy for being the best rookie batsman of the year.

Snyder, who hits left and throws right, played his first season of professional ball in 1953, after three years as an American Legion player and one as a semi-pro. He lives in Oak, Neb., where he works for a meat packing firm during the off season.

Kentucky Won't Enter NIT But Bevo Might

By RIP WATSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The National Invitation Tournament, competing with the National Collegiate basketball tournament for the best college teams, has lost Kentucky out may capture the nation's highest scorers.
Kentucky, the nation's top-ranked team and one of the two undefeated teams, will not ask the southeastern conference to waive its rule against NIT competition, athletic director Bernie Shiveley announced Thursday night.
Selvy Adds 51
New York University's 75-63 win over Manhattan just about erased the committee's last hope for an outstanding local attraction. Manhattan's record is now 11 victories and eight defeats, NYU is 7-7 and St. John's of Brooklyn only 7-8 even after nipping Richmond 62-59 Thursday night.
The NIT could solve its problems with Furman's Frank Selvy and Bevo Francis of Rio Grande, who between them will hold just about every collegiate scoring record by tournament time next month.

Selvy Thursday night scored 51 points in Furman's 114-67 romp over Georgia Tech, running his 2½-year career total to 2,097. That's only 57 shy of the four year record of 2,154 set by Jim Lacy of Baltimore Loyola in 1949.
Francis' 48.9 points per game average dominates the small college field just as Selvy's 37.6 mark towers over the major colleges.
Bevo Could Enter
Little Rio Grande has no technicalities barring it from the NIT, but Furman would be bound to play in the NCAA tournament if it wins the Southern Conference tournament March 4-6. Even if the Southerners lose out, they'd have to get conference permission to accept an NIT bid.

The NIT gained its third team Thursday when Dayton, with a 19-5 record in tough competition, accepted a bid. Duquesne, ranked just behind Kentucky as the nation's only other undefeated team, and Western Kentucky came in previously.
While ruling out the NIT for Kentucky, Shively and coach Adolph Rupp said the Wildcats might try for the NCAA title, provided Kentucky wins the SEC championship. Kentucky can not use its three top scorers, All-America Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioropoulos, because of a rule against post-graduate students in NCAA events.

Indiana Should Breeze Through Northwestern

CHICAGO (AP)—On paper, Indiana should breeze through Northwestern at Evanston Saturday night in one of the Big Ten's basketball features—but it may not be that easy.
The Wildcats broke a five-game losing streak in defeating Ohio State Monday, 80-71, for their second conference victory in eight starts. A capacity crowd of 10,500

Lakers Nearing Pro Cage Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The champion Minneapolis Lakers, who pulled the Baltimore Bullets 110-82 Thursday night and now sit atop the Big Ten, are looking for a combination of 13 Minneapolis victories and Rochester defeats will give the Lakers another western division title in the National Basketball Ass'n.
In other games Rochester downed the Milwaukee Hawks for the third straight night 79-68, the Boston Celtics defeated the New York Knickerbockers 84-81 in overtime and the Philadelphia Warriors won from the Syracuse Nationals 76-74 in two overtimes.
Six Lakers, led by Dick Schmitz's 17 points, hit in double figures, as Minneapolis kept a seven-game lead over Rochester.
Bob Cousy, with 33 points, picked up the slack for Boston when an injury sidelined Ed Macauley. He scored eight of his points in the overtime as the Celtics snapped the Knicks' three game winning streak.
The Philadelphia-Syracuse tilt was marked by a wrestling match between the Warriors' Danny Finn and Dolph Schayes of the Nats. Officials pulled them apart after a scuffle on an out-of-bounds play in the third quarter. Syracuse lost Schayes, Earl Lloyd and Bob Layton, three of its big men on personnel in the two overtimes.

Surplus Foods Going To Needy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said the Agriculture Department is donating government-owned surplus foods to about 200,000 needy persons in 11 states, including Michigan.

Most of those receiving food are said to be rural families who suffered heavily from drought and crop failures last year.

Officials said that while surplus foods have been available for distribution to needy families for many years, the demand has been very small in recent years until the past few weeks.

The foods being donated include butter, cheese, dried milk and in some areas canned beef and gravy.

The department makes food available to accredited state and local public welfare and relief agencies. The latter must assume the responsibility of determining eligibility for aid, and for distribution of supplies.

Officials said there has been little call for surplus foods for the larger industrial centers, like Detroit, where unemployment has increased lately. They attributed this to the fact that most unemployed workers in such areas are receiving unemployment compensation and welfare agencies have not yet seen fit to ask for food.

Most of the demand has come, they said, from persons who, like farmers, are not eligible for unemployment compensation.

Four of the six circles reported holding their special meetings and Christian Doctrine classes. The other two are expected to gether during the next week.

After the meeting the members enjoyed a social hour and lunch.

Dining Car Waiter Goes To Court For Job And Mustache

CHICAGO (AP)—A Chicago dining car waiter wants both his job and his mustache, and has gone to court in an effort to keep both. Harrison T. Brooks, 40, sued in Federal Court for re-instatement with back pay to the job with the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railroad Co.

Brooks, an employee of the line since 1936, said he was discharged last Nov. 6 because he continued to wear a "neatly trimmed mustache" although the railroad last July 10 ordered all dining car employees to be clean shaven.

The order to shave it off, Brooks, a Negro, contends, is outside the provisions of the Railway Labor Act.

LINCOLN LEGENDS: How True Are They?

Lincoln, the man, has become a living legend to most all Americans. The many facets of his life and his complex personality have been written and re-written about since his death in 1865. And yet, despite all the exhaustive efforts made by historians to pinpoint events in the life of this much-beloved President, there still is a store of Lincoln lore which has refused to yield itself to positive proof. These sketches illustrate some of the most speculated-about stories told about the Great Emancipator.

No one is positive whether Lincoln was the champion rail splitter of his time as his neighbor William Wood said, but the legend grew. It was voiced at the 1866 convention when he was introduced as the "Rail Candidate" by his cousin John Hanks.

There are many versions of the celebrated fight between Lincoln and Jack Armstrong. Early writers said Lincoln won the fight. However, the papers of Rowan Herndon, who was present at the battle, said it was a draw, with both men quitting.

Lincoln became a great storyteller after his arrival in New Salem, Ill., but his reputation as the greatest of his time may be an exaggeration. Historians believe his ability was due to his many travels about the backwoods country.

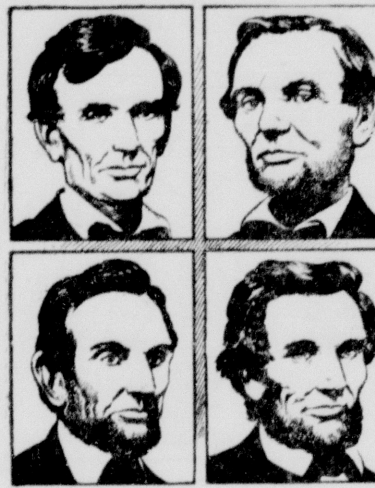

Lincoln reportedly got his first sight of slavery while in New Orleans with John Hanks. As they watched the auction of a young mulatto girl, Lincoln is said to have cried out: "By God, let's get away. . . If I ever get a chance, I'll hit slavery hard."

William Herndon originated the legend of the Lincoln-Rutledge love affair. Legend has it that Lincoln almost lost his mind over her death. Speaking of her to a close friend: "My heart lies buried there."

Using an almanac, Lincoln defended Duff Armstrong in a murder trial. He proved that on the night of the crime there wasn't enough moon for the witness to see the defendant. However, many say it was Lincoln's convincing oratory that freed Duff.

Lincoln is said to have grown a beard to please 11-year-old Grace Bedell. Others say he grew it because the U. S. never had a bearded President, so Lincoln and the Republicans started a new era. Sketches show progress of his beard, 1860-61.

Mexico Stamps Out Epidemic In Cattle; Border Stays Closed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The agriculture ministry said that the foot and mouth disease epidemic which 11 months ago hit Vera Cruz State and caused the closing of the U. S. border to all Mexican beef has been wiped out.

The ministry said quarantine regulations would be lifted shortly and Army guards would be withdrawn from patrol duty around the quarantine area some 375 miles south of the U. S. border.

The United States is not expected to reopen its borders to the import of Mexican beef—which in normal times amounts to 400,000 head annually—until a year after the last reported case of foot and mouth disease.

The ministry said healthy cattle recently shipped into Vera Cruz had not contracted the disease.
